Year: 2023

In the course of this collaboration, several works have stood out for their particular reflection on the use of resources and the use of waste materials, highlighting how the dialogue between Art and Sustainability is indeed capable of bringing together and involving a wide audience in major global issues, such as environmental impact and social inclusion. Contarina selected a series of works that have become the protagonists of a campaign to raise awareness of the value of materials and resources and the importance of their use and reuse. A material, even a waste material, can have a second life full of new meanings:
